NORTH CHARLESTON—

Last fall, students in Ms. Seitz's art class at Jerry Zucker Middle School participated in an art display and silent auction sponsored by MINI of Charleston during their "Not Normal Express Your Inner MINI" event. The students used markers and colored pencils to create 9x9 drawings of what their dream MINI Cooper would look like. The drawings that were selected for the auction were voted on by their peers. Ms. Seitz recently learned that many of the students' drawings sold at the auction, and those that did not sell were sent to MINI USA in New Jersey so they could see the outstanding creativity displayed by Zucker art students. The art auction garnered Ms. Seitz's art program $200 in winnings which will be used towards art supplies for this semester. The students who participated in the contest/auction were Jaelyn Gadsden, Taniah German, Z'Haire Hamilton, Austin Llewellyn, Fantasia McCants and Jasmine Sanders (6th graders); Damon Bryan, Christian Estrada, Rebecca Kimbrell, Janett Lozano-Patron, Zhaikwaun Taylor-Walker, and Ta'Jarus Thompson (7th graders); and Jalen Bethea, Johnathon Fuerte, Mercedes Dierkhising, Tequila Hampton, Sol Nicola and Aiadyah Smith (8th graders).
